

Ole-Martin Jensen

Partner

Ole-Martin Jensen specialises in real estate, construction law and litigation.

His practice covers property development, including land acquisition, contract negotiations, land planning, property formation, property structuring and building applications. In addition, he handles change requests and final settlements in construction matters.

Ole-Martin regularly assists developers and contractors in real estate projects and disputes. Through many years as a property lawyer, he has built up an understanding of the industry that makes him a natural first choice for managers in the property and construction industry.

Public bodies also request Ole-Martins services. As an example, he litigated the high-profile case about public access to the North Cape in 2020–2022.

Ole-Martin is a business lawyer with considerable litigation experience who is used to analysing and managing complex cases.
